Aids of Accused Laborites Try to Stop Course of Justice.

Write Vicious Letter in Attempt to Intimidate Prosecutors.

Predict Dire Disaster if the I.W.W. Agitators Are Hung for Murder.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] GOLDFIELD (Nev.) May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On the morning of the first session of the trial of Preston and Smith, accused murderers of Silva, a member of an opposing union, and the other being accused as an accessory to the crime. The letter to the court reads as follows: "Judge Frank Langdon, dear Judge: There are 2 of us boys now being tried in your court and I want to tell you now that if you hang them or send up for life you will die for it. You will be killed like a dog. Beware of poison for every man of ours you kill or send to the penitentiary, we will kill one of you for every hair in the man's head of ours you kill. Jack Davis, Claiborne Biles Wingfield and a lot more. The traitor of a — Claiborne we will get him soon. Take warning all, death."

HAS 25000 MEMBERS.

Jack Davis is a prominent mining man who has been outspoken in his opposition to the I.W.W. from the first and has been repeatedly warned at the peril of his life to flee the camp. Claiborne Biles Wingfield, a member of the L.W.W., who told of the alleged conspiracy among that organization's leaders to slay Wingfield, Davis, Silva, the only victim, and others. It was upon the strength of his testimony that eight other agitators besides Preston and Smith were indicted and are now held for trial for the murder of Silva.

Wingfield is the mining head of the $50,000,000 merger named the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company. He is a close associate with United States Senator Nixon.

The anonymous threat was embellished with skill and cross-bones. In the beginning it appeared to have been written in a woman's hand, but after the words "beware of poison" the writing is larger and coarser and altogether dissimilar to the first few paragraphs. The officers have no clue to the identity of the perpetrator.

FEELS INSULT KEENLY.

Judge Langdon gave out the following statement: "I feel this affair most keenly. I was born in a mining town, Virginia City, and have lived all my life in the great mining State of Nevada, and it has incidentally hurt me to have such an incident as this sprung upon me in Goldfield."

"I felt when I came here that I would have the moral support of the entire community in the matter of carrying out the letter of the law and doing my plain duty as my oath dictates. I still believe that such feeling is practically unanimous with the population of Goldfield."

"I will say with regard to the threats made that I propose to do my duty and will perform it absolutely as I see it in the law."

Sheriff Ingalls said: "I believe that the sending of this letter to Judge Langdon is the work of a crank. A case of this sort is very hard to ferret out but if the slightest clue comes to me I will use all the machinery of the law to apprehend the perpetrator."

CLAIBORNE GETS NOTE.

Claiborne, the State's witness who testified to the conspiracy and brought conviction to the defense and the rank of the L.W.W., has received an anonymous note reading: "You white-headed Swede, you — you get out of town before 6 o'clock today, or you will be killed."

BRIDE IS TABOOED.

Miss Gilman Costs Corey Dear.

Steel Directors Want His Resignation from Head of Corporation.

They Say Men in His Position Must Observe Ordinary Propriety.

Also Assert Recent Election Is Based on Promise of Withdrawal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Though William Ellis Corey has renounced his parents and sisters to his marriage to Maybelle Gilman, the actress, which is scheduled to take place on May 13, it is not believed that he has obtained the approval of his business associates.

Corey's tenure of the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation is not considered in the financial district to be as secure as might be inferred from the fact that he was reflected no longer last week, presumably for another year.

It was reported yesterday that Corey's resignation was arranged with the understanding that he would resign in the near future.

While this particular report was denied, it was said that some of the directors of the corporation were of the opinion that the notoriety attaching to Corey's personal affairs was sufficient ground for his retirement from the office he now holds.

PROPRIETY IS DEMANDED.

A man who is active in the management of the steel corporation and who is known to reflect the views of at least some of the most confidential of the directors of that company made this comment today on what is expected of the head of the steel corporation: "When a man occupies a position as prominent as that of president of a great corporation like the steel corporation, the Pennsylvania Railroad, or any similar semi-public position, he is expected to observe the ordinary forms of propriety."

"What may be said to be purely personal affairs in the case of a less conspicuous man cannot be so considered in the case of a man holding positions of prominence. They are required, just as public officials are required, to observe in their personal conduct the standards set by the community at large."

PAIR ARE RETICENT.

Both Miss Gilman and Mr. Corey refused tonight to see reporters. They declined to receive a note of inquiry asking them where the marriage is to be held. At the Hotel Gotham, where Miss Gilman is stopping with her mother, the management said that Miss Gilman had left strict orders that she was to receive no communications from reporters. The management of Sherry's, where Mr. Corey has apartments, made a similar statement on Mr. Corey's behalf.

There was a rumor yesterday that the marriage was to be held at the Hotel Gotham, but this could not be substantiated.

Thomas Lannin, proprietor of the Garden City Hotel, emphatically denied last night the report that Mr. Corey had engaged a suite of rooms to be occupied from May 12 for an indefinite period. If Mr. Corey's marriage to Miss Gilman takes place on Long Island, there is little likelihood of the ceremony being performed in the Episcopal church.

COWBOY TRIES FOR CONGRESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chauncey Dewey, Republican Committee member from the Second Ward, is backed by influential residents of the First Congress District for the Republican nomination to Congress next spring as successor to Martin B. Madden.

Madden has decided to retire at the end of his present term and devote his time to his health. Dewey's friends expect their plans will have no serious opposition. Other political leaders in the district are favorable to his candidacy.

Chauncey Dewey won his place as a committeeman in the primaries last August. He is a young man of wealth, owning ranch property in Kansas. He decided to make his home permanently in Chicago about two years ago, and it is known that at least one death occurred there.

SEVERE TONGUE; IT IS SEWED ON.

ACCIDENT OCCURS WHEN CRANKING AUTOMOBILE.

Victim Picks Up "Unruly Member" and With It Speeds Frantically to Hospital Where Surgeons Stitch It in Place Entailing Agonized Operation to Restore Speech.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] His tongue sewed by an involuntary bit of his teeth, Blon J. Arnold, the city's $30,000-a-year tractor expert and prominent electrical engineer, is the victim of a most peculiar and painful automobile accident. He will be unable to talk for some time.

Arnold was jerked by a sudden movement of the engine, which he was trying to "crank" against the auto frame, bringing his chin down on the radiator with such force that he bit off almost all of his tongue.

Frantic with pain, with the blood streaming from his mouth, Arnold jumped into the automobile and made a wild run from the entrance of Washington Park, where the accident occurred, to Mercy Hospital.

Dr. Thomas Linn sewed the severed piece of his tongue on again in a most painful operation.

It was feared by friends that Arnold's injury might result in serious complications. Health Commissioner Evans, however, held out assurances of speedy recovery.

WILSON THINKS CROP IS GOOD.

HE SAYS REPORT OF SHORTAGE HIDES PURPOSE.

Secretary of Agriculture Reviews Present Condition of Cereal Fields and Asserts That Allowing for Backward Season All Staples Except in Manitoba Are in Fair Condition.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.] CHICAGO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The reports of damage to the crops which have been so numerous of late owing to the unseasonable weather and the ravages of bugs, have been greatly exaggerated, according to James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, who is in Chicago tonight.

"Spring seeding is a little backward," he said, "on account of the cold weather, but there is plenty of time between now and the last of September to grow a crop of all kinds of grain. In Minnesota and the Dakotas, where we get most of our spring wheat, seeding has been delayed about two weeks, and with a few days of warm sunshine planting will begin. The weather has been unseasonably cold in some districts, but it has not been severe enough to retard plowing, and my advice is that the ground in these States has nearly all been made ready to receive the seed. We will have warm weather in a few days now, and I don't see what is to prevent a normal crop of spring wheat in these States."

"As regards the Canadian Northwest, the claims being made that this year's harvest will be seriously diminished may have some foundation. According to what I consider authentic advice from that section, the weather has been so cold that plowing has been almost impossible. In past years the Canadian farmer has generally left his plowing for the spring, and this year he finds himself in a bad predicament. In a normal year seeding would be about finished in Manitoba and adjoining provinces, but I am told that today the farmers there have not got the ground ready for receiving the seed. However, such a condition in the Canadian Northwest won't make a great deal of difference when the crop is harvested. The Canadian farmer grows but a small proportion of the total crop of wheat, and I am of the opinion that the deficiency there, if there be any, will hardly be

PANS ALL LOAFERS.

Schwab Sets Union Iron Works Free.

Cries 'Pitch Plant Into Bay Before Surrendering to Agitators.'

His Enthusiasm Puts Snap Into Other Employers of Mechanics.

Until Conditions Settle He Refuses to Build More Ships on Slope.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BY HARRY C. CARR.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles M. Schwab, the steel king, made a firing visit to San Francisco today, rushing in from Tonopah in the morning and rushing out for New York in the afternoon. His appearance at this time of crisis had about the same effect as the arrival of Sheridan at Winchester.

As heretofore intimated in The Times, Schwab is the real power that is bracing San Francisco up to fight. Statements given out by his representatives were tame enough. What he really had to say was anything but tame. He told one of San Francisco's prominent men during a conference over the strike situation that he will dismantle the Union Iron Works and throw the whole outfit into the bay before he will submit to domination by the unions or stand for any more hold-ups.

Schwab ignores unions. Schwab, through his connection with the United States Steel Corporation, Carnegie Company, Bethlehem Steel Works, Harlan & Hollingsworth, etc., is one of the greatest employers of men in the world. He has no dealings whatever with unions—only in San Francisco. Never again, he says, will build no more ships at the Union Iron Works, owing to labor conditions. Mr. Schwab states:

"Our concern will never take a battleship or any other kind of a ship to be built in San Francisco as long as the labor conditions are maintained as at present. We lost $2,500,000 on the last three battleships contracted for, and have lost more money in our work in San Francisco than we have made at our other works throughout the different parts of this country. We shall not take any work of any magnitude under the labor conditions existing in San Francisco. I have never seen anything like it, anywhere."

"We have just completed three battleships for the United States government, and we have lost $2,500,000 in the construction, and this was chiefly caused by the conditions of labor."

"When we took control of the Union Iron Works Henry T. Scott had already contracted for these three ships and then the men were working ten hours a day, but this did not exist long before it was nine hours. It is not so much the time as it is greatly because of their inferior and inefficient workman ship that we object, as the same standard has not been maintained."

Schwab called on the editor of the Chronicle, and gave out the following interview, in which he says he will build no more ships at the Union Iron Works, owing to labor conditions. Mr. Schwab states:

the way at the Union Iron Works, will be finished by the government.

The Union Iron Works telegraphed the Navy Department at Washington last week, requesting the government to accept delivery of the cruiser in its present incomplete condition without requiring the contractors to fully complete her as stipulated.

Secretary Metcalf has wired a compliance with this request and that the cruiser will be finished at the Mare Island Navy Yard.

INAN PERMITS DASTARD WORK.

ALLOWS NO POLICE GUARDS ON TROLLEY CARS.

He Issues This Edict Although Two-thirds of Strikers Are Armed and Murder Is to Be Feared When Street Car Company Undertakes to Resume Traffic.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow will be a nasty day in the history of San Francisco.

There's a fight coming at the barn when the first car goes out.

Chief of Police Dinan has done a dastardly thing in announcing tonight, for the evident benefit of the unions, that he will allow no policemen to ride on the cars to protect them. His policemen are allowing hundreds of ruffians to crowd around the car barns. Dinan knows perfectly well that two-thirds of the strikers are armed.

A great wave of public sentiment has risen against the unions. The newspapers are all plucking up enough courage to make faint squeals of denunciation against the twenty or thirty different strikes now in progress.

A few days ago a pompous committee from a "civic league" called upon Patrick Cahoun and demanded that he proceed to arbitrate "in the name of civic peace" and various other things. They even became threatening when Cahoun refused, and said they would compel him to arbitrate.

Yesterday they came back. They were trembling with rage. They had been to see the unions in the interests of "civic peace." All they got was one of the insolent letters of which Mr. Cahoun has a collection. They came back tonight to beg him to get in and kick the stuffing out of the union. The unions themselves are secretly afraid.

The move of the building trades—particularly the structural-iron workers, which was to have followed the car strike, has not materialized. Knowing the real-estate interests are prepared to tie up all the buildings, as stated heretofore in The Times, they have postponed their demands.

Already the iron workers and some of the carmen are bitterly denouncing the fools who have led them into an industrial slaughter.

It is not sentiment or real courage which has roused the fight in San Francisco. It is the realization that to go on knocking to the unions means a terrible financial crash.

Instead of killing San Francisco the unions are to be killed. The telephone strike got a death blow this afternoon. About 5 o'clock the union young ladies were as usual drawn up in front of the Steiner-street exchange to picket the telephone girls. But the telephone girls did not come out. Instead, a wagon loaded with forty or fifty carmen, armed with clubs and began to unload.

The truth is the girl strikers, already pretty sick of picketing, looked ready to cry. The unloading proceeded in dead silence for a while, until at last one girl spoke up, saying: "Well, anyhow, if those scabs sleep in their clothes, they'll look like frights when they get up tomorrow."

The telephone company is always cooked lunches for the girls, so all has the facilities for housekeeping.

PHONE SERVICE GROWS BETTER.

REAL STRUGGLE COMES WHEN CARS ARE STARTED.

President Cahoun Announces Discharge of All Employees Who Do Not Report for Work at Car Barns at Eight O'Clock Today—Expects to Resume Service.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—The day passed quietly and there was practically no change in either the carmen's, iron workers', or telephone strike.

Two or three cars hauling provisions and other commissary supplies between the car barns and over some of the lines of the United Railroads beyond hooting and jeering along the routes traveled by the cars, no demonstration was made.

It is pretty generally understood that the first attempt to run cars will be made tomorrow. President Cahoun would not make known his plans but issued a statement tonight indicative of his intention to start out some cars tomorrow. He admitted to the Associated Press that he anticipated trouble but expressed the opinion that it would be of short duration. The company, it is said, has about 500 strike breakers ready to take out cars.

Mayor Schmitt has issued a statement that he will not place policemen on the cars and that the police will be used only to preserve and maintain order.

The telephone service was much improved today. The company claims to have 150 operators at work and that there has been a defection of several girls from the union. The first statement is discredited by the union and the latter emphatically denied. The linemen served notice on President Scott today that unless the telephone operator's union is recognized by the company, the linemen will go out in sympathy with the girls.

A meeting between the linemen and President Scott was arranged for tomorrow afternoon.

CALHOUN'S STATEMENT.

President Cahoun tonight issued the following statement:

Greatest New York Strike Is Impending.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the beginning of strikes on the piers in Hoboken with hundreds of men on the Canard, French, White Star, Atlantic Transport and Southern Pacific lines, on the North River joining their brethren who struck several days ago, and with the situation growing worse in Brooklyn, the end of the day today saw the beginning of what may be the greatest strike ever experienced along the water fronts of New York and the neighboring cities. Eight thousand to ten thousand men are now idle and thousands of tons of freight are held up.

While the trouble up to today has been sporadic because of the lack of organization among the longshoremen there was a unification of forces along the North River. Under the name of the "Longshoremen's Protective Association" the men met in a hall on West and West Eleventh streets and sent out a statement of their demands. The companies will not make concessions. It is stated by their representatives.

When the 1 o'clock whistles blew today the men on the Canard, White Star, French Line and Southern Pacific piers failed to return to work and the handling of cargoes came to a standstill.

In Brooklyn the water front is as lifeless as on a holiday. In Hoboken the men gathered in the morning and American, Scandinavian-American, Phoenix and Clyde line piers saw the men walking out at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The Hamburg-American piers have thus far escaped, but a strike there is said to be set for tomorrow.

Without a warning 350 employees of the Havemeyer Sugar Refining Company, whose plant extends along Kent avenue, from South First street to South Fifth street, Williamsburg, went on strike at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and seriously crippled work.

The men asked an increase from fifteen to twenty cents an hour, saying the price of food is so high they cannot support their families properly on the old wage scale.

The strikers are platform men, mixers and unskilled laborers, and do not belong to any union. They quietly left work about 1 o'clock in the morning and gathered outside the buildings. At noon they were joined by many others and the police, fearing some violence might possibly result, had the reserves from four stations on hand ready for an emergency.

When the night shift representing nearly eighteen hundred men, appeared at the refinery last night, the strikers pleaded with them and succeeded in inducing about three hundred to quit work.

Lord Newton Seeks to Have Hereditary Feature of Upper House Abolished.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

LONDON, May 6.—The discussion in the House of Lords this evening was devoted to Lord Newton's bill proposing the reconstitution of the House on a partly elective basis.

He seeks to remove the excessive preponderance of hereditary peers by stipulating qualification through service to the State or previous election, and he provides for a certain number of elected peers and for the nomination by the crown of life peers, these not to exceed one hundred in number.

The House as well as the galleries were thronged, showing the interest aroused by the Conservative proposal to anticipate governmental action and the possibility of debate provoking a statement of the intentions of the government.

This, however, did not come to pass, the Earl of Crewe, Lord President of the Council, speaking on behalf of the government, declining to have anything to do with Lord Newton's proposal. He gave no hint of the government's policy, although the utterances conveyed the idea that the government contemplated a somewhat drastic measure.

THE PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

Today the skies were threatening, and the mercury held within the narrow confines of 45 and 48 deg.

Greatest New York Strike Is Impending.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the beginning of strikes on the piers in Hoboken with hundreds of men on the Canard, French, White Star, Atlantic Transport and Southern Pacific lines, on the North River joining their brethren who struck several days ago, and with the situation growing worse in Brooklyn, the end of the day today saw the beginning of what may be the greatest strike ever experienced along the water fronts of New York and the neighboring cities. Eight thousand to ten thousand men are now idle and thousands of tons of freight are held up.

While the trouble up to today has been sporadic because of the lack of organization among the longshoremen there was a unification of forces along the North River. Under the name of the "Longshoremen's Protective Association" the men met in a hall on West and West Eleventh streets and sent out a statement of their demands. The companies will not make concessions. It is stated by their representatives.

When the 1 o'clock whistles blew today the men on the Canard, White Star, French Line and Southern Pacific piers failed to return to work and the handling of cargoes came to a standstill.

In Brooklyn the water front is as lifeless as on a holiday. In Hoboken the men gathered in the morning and American, Scandinavian-American, Phoenix and Clyde line piers saw the men walking out at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The Hamburg-American piers have thus far escaped, but a strike there is said to be set for tomorrow.

Without a warning 350 employees of the Havemeyer Sugar Refining Company, whose plant extends along Kent avenue, from South First street to South Fifth street, Williamsburg, went on strike at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and seriously crippled work.

The men asked an increase from fifteen to twenty cents an hour, saying the price of food is so high they cannot support their families properly on the old wage scale.

The strikers are platform men, mixers and unskilled laborers, and do not belong to any union. They quietly left work about 1 o'clock in the morning and gathered outside the buildings. At noon they were joined by many others and the police, fearing some violence might possibly result, had the reserves from four stations on hand ready for an emergency.

When the night shift representing nearly eighteen hundred men, appeared at the refinery last night, the strikers pleaded with them and succeeded in inducing about three hundred to quit work.

CHICAGO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A continuation of the demoralized weather of the last month was predicted tonight. Early winds and lower temperatures are on the card. As long as the lake remains in its present condition, there will be no spring; move the lake, and the warm breezes will come, says Forecaster Cox. Today the skies were threatening, and the mercury held within the narrow confines of 45 and 48 deg.

SEEKS SECRET OF THE STATE.

Haywood Tries to Make Boh Show His Hand.

Prosecutor of Steenberg's Slaying Exposes Plan.

Court Takes Motion Under Adversement.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) BOISE (Idaho) May 6.—Judge Fremont Wood will on Wednesday next decide if, on the eve of his trial for the murder of former Gov. Frank Steenberg, W. A. Haywood is entitled to receive at the hands of the State a bill of particulars, specifying the overt acts charged against him. The motion of the defense for this disclosure of the case of the State was argued at length today, and at the conclusion of the discussion the court announced that it would make a decision at the time stated.

The prisoner, under guard of Sheriff Hodgins and two deputies, was brought into court for the argument, and, of his counsel, both Frank Richardson of Denver and Clarence Darrow of Chicago pleaded in his behalf.

Senator Borah alone spoke in behalf of the State, although James H. Hawley, his assistant, was in the courtroom when the case was argued. His discussion, always earnest, was characterized at times by deep feeling and dramatic intensity.

Richardson, who opened the argument, contended that the indictment was lacking in particularity, that it left the defense at a disadvantage as to the nature of the case to be presented against them, and the defendants were entitled to a more specific showing of the case. He submitted an extended brief citing a great number of authorities and precedents in favor of his contention.

Borah, in reply, declared that the defense was seeking a disclosure of the proof in the hands of the State rather than more perfect pleadings, and asserted that the reports contained no single authority that would support such a contention.

Darrow, who closed the argument, began by saying that it was the purpose of the defense to secure a disclosure of the evidence in the hands of the prosecution, and asked why the defense was not entitled to such a showing. He made a spirited attack upon the attitude of the prosecution toward its witnesses and evidence, describing it as mysterious, unfair and unjust. He asserted that the only question involved was one of fairness and justice to the accused, and that the difficulty of securing testimony from distant points, and the danger to the defense of "surprise" testimony, and the fact that the State was in the hands of the prosecution as much in the keeping of the defense as in the keeping of the prosecution.

In answer to Judge Wood, Darrow said that the defense was not ready to go to trial, but he was ready to let him make the qualification that the defense was ready as it could ever be in the circumstances where the case of the State was withheld from it, and said that in all other respects the defense was ready.

Richardson, in responding in brief to the argument of Borah, said that the counsel for the State made no distinction in the argument between the overt acts which the State would seek to show against the prisoners and the evidence by which it would seek to establish the commission of the overt acts. The defense wished to know what the overt acts were.

Borah closed the discussion with a spirited speech, in which he defended secrecy in obtaining witnesses, instancing the loss of two in Colorado yesterday, and declared that any man's blood unjustly, and avowed the purpose of the State to do its duty.

Mr. Borah's impassioned defense, reference to the secrecy about summoning witnesses and the charges of unfairness, said that only within the last twenty-four hours the State had lost two important witnesses in Colorado. If the names of the witnesses were revealed, the State would lose them. He said if he knew his own heart, he was not going to be unfair to the defendants, he was not thirsting for wanting any man's blood, but there was a duty to be performed by the State, and it was going to be performed. He said he could say what he had in reply.

Darrow said that if the remarks of Senator Borah carried any insinuation as to the defense and the State's witnesses, that he would say the defense was having the same difficulty about securing the attendance of witnesses.

At the conclusion of the argument, he stated that the subpoena for the State had been issued in blank, and that the State was having the same difficulty about securing the names of witnesses.

To this Senator Borah replied that it was true the subpoena had been issued in blank, but that the State was having the same difficulty about securing the names of witnesses.

Senator Borah said that within the last twenty-four hours, two of their most important witnesses from Colorado had disappeared, and that the State was having the same difficulty about securing the attendance of witnesses.

than ordinary import is culminating. With difficulty the burro forces his way through the press, and finally appears, looking in his riddle, the clown addresses a gray friar and asks him what is in the wind.

"If you'll take my advice," answers the friar, "you'll stay where you are. The Queen of the Fiesta and her retinue are coming."

"There's a queen and a jack in every pack," roars the clown, with cheap wit. Blowing an unearthly blast on a fiesta horn which hangs from his saddle, he shouts: "Long live the queen!"

The cry is taken up and repeated by the subjects of Her Majesty, until the other vibrates with the shout. Backing his burro to the curb, the jester begins jollying those around him. Among the clowns are even dressed as gladiators, who attract much attention when it becomes known that they are to fight a broadsword duel in the presence of the Queen for the honor of presenting her with an immense bouquet of sunflowers.

Presently the bugle notes of the queen's band are heard, and the procession appears. Her Majesty is seated in a carriage, drawn by an ancient, shaggy horse, and is surrounded by a retinue of courtiers.

From the chariot reaches the spot where the gladiators stand, they step forward, and saluting the Queen, one of them, "Slade," gives a salute to the Queen, and the other, "Sullivan," gives a salute to the Queen.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Andrew Carnegie's plan to send Senor Mendoza, formerly Colombian Minister here, to Latin America on a peace propaganda, has caused trouble at the very outset. WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

President Opens Contest. WASHINGTON, May 6.—President Roosevelt opened the National Scholastic Club at Charleston, S. C., this afternoon by pressing a button at the White House which electrically pulled the trigger that fired three shots at a target at Charleston.

Touch Begins Fair. WASHINGTON, May 6.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon the President touched a button at the White House which opened the fair for the benefit of the actors of the Metropolitan Opera-house in New York.

To Study White Plague. WASHINGTON, May 6.—With an unusually large attendance the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis opened its third annual meeting here today with an address by Dr. Herman Biggs of New York, its president.

Cruiser Tacoma Leaves. WASHINGTON, May 6.—The cruiser Tacoma has by orders of the Navy Department, left Santiago, the scene of the recent clash between the sailors of the United States and the sailors of the Chilean navy, and is en route to Guantanamo, thus removing the possibility of further friction.

Nation Owns Railroads. WASHINGTON, May 6.—That the United States has full power under the Constitution to govern and control railroad corporations is declared by Judge W. H. Farrar of New Orleans in a decision handed down today. The roads also are protected, he says, against the prejudice of the local jury by giving them the right to sue and be sued in the Federal courts. The national governments should provide the manner and extent through which the railroads should be taxed by the States.

Easy Divorce in Scotland. The Scotch courts apparently encourage divorce suits. One has merely to read a lot of affidavits, answer half a dozen questions—either yes or no—and then one gets a verdict. It saves the plaintiff the trouble of going to court, and the defendant the trouble of being there. The divorce is granted in a matter of days, and the parties are free to marry again.

Only One Candidate in Left. A century ago a Londoner was noted for his coaching parties that he assembled in the comfortable parlors for an evening of pleasure. George's Inn, one of the famous taverns of the city, was the place where the nobility of England gathered in years gone by, was probably the most popular that lined the roads of the English capital. It was through his association with the people who frequented George's Inn that Dickens began to attract widespread attention as a novelist and writer. More than three-score years ago was a familiar figure when he held sway in the now antiquated tavern.

Here it was that Mr. Dickens met Mr. Pickwick and the various characters he immortalized in "Pickwick Papers" and "The Pickwick Papers." It was here that he met the famous actor, Charles Kean, and the famous actress, Ellen Terry, and the famous writer, George Bernard Shaw, and the famous painter, J. M. W. CABINET SPLITS ON HOME RULE.
BRITISH MINISTERS DIVIDE ON IRISH COUNCIL BILL.

Leader of Anti-Forces Threatens to Resign if Measure Contains Any Reference to Self-Government by Emerald Isle—Contents of Proposed Law Kept Secret.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) LONDON, May 6.—With negotiations extending up to the last moment and all participating in them bound to secrecy, little is known as to the provisions of the Irish Council Bill, the main proposals of which Augustin Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, promised to explain in the House of Commons on May 7.

There has been a keen contest in the Cabinet between the Home Rulers, represented by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, and the Anti-Home Rulers, led by Herbert Asquith, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Richard Haldane, Secretary of War, with the Home Rulers desirous of giving Ireland the least foundation for self-government, and Messrs. Asquith and Haldane demanding that the bill shall not bear any resemblance to Home Rule.

Mr. Asquith has gone so far as to say that if the bill contains anything in the nature of a pledge, inconsistent with, or in violation of, the pledges he has made against Home Rule, he will resign, and there is little doubt that he would be followed by Mr. Haldane and probably other members of the Cabinet.

John Redmond has taken a prominent part in the negotiations. The Labourites, of whom are Home Rulers, have been supporting the Nationalists, but even this would not justify Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman losing two members of his Cabinet in whom the people have the greatest confidence.

While the Conservative elements have for months been alarmed by the government's new system of taxation they have now become generally frightened to find a carnival of strikes, labor disputes, and anti-military propaganda being directly fostered by the General Federation of Labor, an organization comprising all the labor unions of France, which is openly preaching collectivism, expropriation and the attainment of ends by means of a general strike.

Industrial Development Now in Its Infancy. But Vastly Richer Than Any Eastern State or Foreign Land.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) PARIS, May 6.—Ugly clouds have gathered under the Easter holidays, and when Parliament reassembles Tuesday, Premier Clemenceau and his Cabinet will have to face a multitude of interpellations.

There is no question about the present extent and the great growing importance of the commercial side of the Coast States. Manufacturing has just begun to get a foothold. A vast number of great industrial enterprises will be launched each year. The conversion of natural resources into finished products offers the largest opening to capital, and in this regard, the work of the Pacific Coast Soda Company has the brightest prospect of any one of the several enterprises that are before the people today.

SPORTING PAGE. BURNS TAKES LONG CHANCE.

Risks Injury to Please Fans in Fast Workout.

Best Training Exhibition
Seen in Many Years.

Goes Five Rounds With Memic and Woods.

Tommy Burns took hazardous chances, yesterday afternoon, when he gave an exhibition at the Naud Junction Pavilion to about 1200 light fans, several of whom were women. He proved his recklessness by running after a street car at full speed and jumping on the platform. He might have been thrown, and a small sprain is sufficient to spoil all his chances in the fight.

Battling Nelson is similar to Burns. When he trained at Arcadia for his fight with Herrera, Nolan left him alone for awhile, and when Billy returned he found Nelson sitting astride of a big fat German with whom he had been wrestling for thirty-five minutes.

"He is the toughest man I ever saw, but I got him all right," said Bat triumphantly, and Billy Nolan could do no more than stand and stare, speechless. Had Nelson injured himself in the slightest he would have had little to do with Herrera, as he fought. O'Brien is under the watchful care of Nolan, and it is assured that nothing will happen at Arcadia to injure Jack. If human watchfulness can prevent, human watchfulness can prevent.

Jack is heavier than he was in his last fight with Burns, and says he feels very much better. He claims his breathing apparatus is working splendidly since the operation on his nose, and that he feels it in his condition.

ARRAY OF FIGHTERS.

The greatest array of fighters ever gathered in a pavilion will be on hand Wednesday night, when Jack O'Brien will, and his management and confidence in O'Brien is merely based on calculations on what he has read and what he has heard others say.

MURPHY AND SUMMERS.

MATCH ALMOST ARRANGED.

NEW YORK, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The offer of $50 per cent of the gross receipts made by Harry Edwards, representing the National Athletic Club of Philadelphia, for a fight between Tommy Murphy and Johnny Summers, will be accepted tomorrow night, when the managers of both of the fighters meet at the Hotel Metropole.

The Englishman could not clinch a match with Battling Nelson, whom he thinks he can defeat, and all that remained for him to do was to box Murphy, the public's choice.

In meeting Murphy, the Briton will line up against a good fighter, and he may find, to his surprise, that the little Harlem featherweight is not lacking in cleverness, and, moreover, can hit some.

SCHRECK AND HART.

MATCHED FOR TONOPAH.

CHICAGO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tired of waiting for a definite answer from Jim Coffroth of San Francisco regarding a match there, May 30, with Bill Riquelme, the Australian, Mike Schreck's manager, Billy Hogan, today signed articles of agreement to fight Marvin Hart, Louisville, Nev., on that date. The contest will be at catch weights and will go to a finish.

Hogan went to Coffroth, Saturday, and he would wait only twenty-four hours longer to get definite word, and if he failed in that time he would close with Tompkins. Hogan feared that he would be thrown over at the last moment and left without a match at all.

In the second of the intercollegiate series, Jordan did what no other pitcher has ever done in a California. Stanford, by holding his opponents to only one hit. The new captain probably will be in the box again next year.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

LIBERHART TWIRLS POORLY.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Poor pitching characterized today's game, Chicago defeating Cleveland 5 to 3. Smith scored the excellent support accorded him. Score:

Chicago, 5; hits, 9; errors, 2. Cleveland, 3; hits, 5; errors, 2.

Twentieth Street Wins.

The basketball team of the Twentieth Street School defeated the team from the Main Street School yesterday afternoon, with a score of 22 to 16. The game was played on the Twentieth Street ground.

Failed to Show Up.

Through the failure of the Mesquite Athletic Club to show up on the County Hospital Field Sunday morning, in order to play their scheduled contest with the Swifts, the game was awarded to the Swifts by the customary score of 9 to 0.

ANGLERS CATCH RECORD TROUT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

AZUSA, May 6.—Clint Seem of Monrovia came down from San Gabriel today with the largest mountain trout ever captured in this section of the State. Mr. Seem and Thomas Neville of Monrovia have been on the west fork of the San Gabriel River on a two days' fishing trip, and yesterday the former landed a trout twenty-three and a half inches long, weighing three and a half pounds. The catch was made in Bear Canyon, and the same line was hooked another trout, fifteen and a half inches long and weighing one and a half pounds. The fishermen brought in about seven five-pound specimens of the finny tribe. Although the water in the main river is too high for the best fishing, good catches are being made in some of the smaller side canyons.

DATES SET FOR TENNIS GAMES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, May 6.—Miss May Sutton is reported to have arranged an odd match in her training for the lawn tennis match abroad. She is going to meet Charles E. Sands, the court tennis champion of 1905, in a match at the St. Nicholas Rink, next Wednesday. Sands is well known for his ability on the lawn tennis court. There is great interest in the match.

MAY SUTTON IS TO PLAY SANDS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, May 6.—Miss May Sutton is reported to have arranged an odd match in her training for the lawn tennis match abroad. She is going to meet Charles E. Sands, the court tennis champion of 1905, in a match at the St. Nicholas Rink, next Wednesday. Sands is well known for his ability on the lawn tennis court. There is great interest in the match.

THREE-STORY FALL: ALIVE.

Oscar Johnson of No. 114 East Eleventh street had a narrow escape from death yesterday morning. He fell from the third story of a building in course of construction at Seventh and Los Angeles streets, striking on his head. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital and may recover.

Sample Waists Today

1-3 to 1-2 Off

Like having a man on the ground. Our resident New York buyer has landed another lot of samples. Time a waist manufacturer's sample line of twenty high class waists—or to be exact just two hundred fifty of them.

Beautiful specimens, made of fine white lawns and soft, sheer muscades elaborately decorated with laces, embroideries, fillet nets, and embroidered work and rich medallion effects. Why, the patterns alone on many of these waists are worth as much as the going to get for the finished garment. Nearly as many models, too, as there are waists in the lot.

All sizes, but not all sizes in each style, so, early visitors will get best picking. At regular rates these waists are worth—actually worth $5.00, $6.00, $6.50, $7.00, $7.50 and on up to $10.00. Pick today from the entire lot at just one-third less.

Waists at Half

We will place on sale today five or six dozen pretty waists made up of broken lines and odd lots from our own stock; all new however, within the past few weeks and as good value at regular prices as you'll find elsewhere. Some are slightly soiled and rumpled from being perhaps, but beyond that they're perfect. Prices range up to $2.00. Choose from this latter lot to-day at half price.

Excursions to Neighboring Resorts Give Visitors First Real Taste of Joys of Fiesta Time.

FOURTEEN thousand five hundred and fifty Shriners were registered at Masonic Temple headquarters when the registration bureau closed last night. The number will be swelled today to 15,000. More than 35,000 visitors are registered at the various hotels of Los Angeles, according to reports received at Shrine headquarters. Some straggling parties will reach here today.

Shrine festivities began in earnest yesterday with the trip of the Imperial Council to Catalina, the visit of 5000 Nobles to Redondo, and of the same number to Glendale. Thousands more visited the Indian Crafts exhibition. In the evening, Islam Temple of San Francisco entertained its friends with a monster reception at its headquarters, the King Edward Hotel, while Algeria Temple of Butte, Mont., opened its hospitable doors at the Alexandria, the jam being so great that only a small proportion of the callers could be accommodated.

Feasting at the quarter-mile-long table, Redondo, and incidents of the spread. Upper picture shows the soup-making. Below is A. J. Smith of Oakland, who enjoyed the chowder, thank you.

Salaam Temple will give a reception at the Hayward, at which pretty souvenirs will be presented to all guests. J. E. McKee is chairman of the Arrangement Committee, and Mrs. McKee is the chairman of the Ladies' Reception Committee, which also includes Mrs. Charles Meyers and Miss Astley.

NEARLY FIVE HUNDRED ON THE COUNCIL'S SEA TRIP.

Flying Fish and Porpoises Make Appearance for Benefit of Visitors, but Whales Are Wary—Islanders Extend Warm Welcome and Give Luncheon and Trips About Island.

"Like the darkey with the huge slice of watermelon who sentimentally expressed himself: 'Ef der's anything better 'an dis, why I don't want ter find it,' is our sentiment for Santa Catalina Island."

This is the typical manner in which illustrious Potentate Alva P. Clayton gave voice to his views on stepping aboard the steamer Cabrillo, coastward bound, late yesterday afternoon.

It was a fair criticism of the general sentiment as expressed by the visiting Shriners and their ladies, who made the voyage to the "Magic Isle."

Fascinations of old ocean's bed as seen from the glass-bottom boats; mountain rides along the crests that afford fine views of both canyons and sea; shopping in the curio stores, climbing the near-by points of vantage, and satisfying keen appetites with a beautifully served luncheon at Hotel Metropole served to fill every moment of time allowed on the island. It was a fortunate that wretched appetites for more, and many of the visitors expressed their intention of returning to Catalina before their journey homeward is begun.

The steamer Cabrillo carried 475 passengers—officers and delegates of the Imperial Council and their wives. When it left San Pedro at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, special cars carried the party from Los Angeles to San Pedro, and conveyed the Shriners back again last evening. Other Shriners went over on the regular boats.

On the steamer the captain's cabin was set aside for the use of the Imperial Potentate, and there were gathered various members of the official divan.

During the trip from mainland to the island the Zuhrah Temple Quartette, Minneapolis, composed of Nobles E. P. Browning, W. B. Heath, F. H. Forbes and W. S. Marshall, entertained with a musical programme.

The voyagers were fortunate in encountering several schools of flying fish, and two lots of porpoises were sighted. The whales were just out of sight.

A cordial welcome was extended by the Imperial Potentate to the "unwritten law" that either the Imperial Treas-

Frank Curtis Roundy of Chicago, the next Imperial Potentate. He is now deputy Imperial Potentate, and comes from Medinah Temple, the largest in America, with fifty-seven hundred members.

IT IS conceded by the visiting Shriners that Frank Curtis Roundy, Imperial Deputy Potentate, who is a member of Medinah Temple of Chicago, will be the next Imperial Potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The election of officers will be held tomorrow and an entire slate has been arranged. The only contest is expected in the election of the next Imperial Outer Guard. For this office several sturdy candidates have appeared. They include Elias J. Jacoby of Murat Temple, Indianapolis; Fred J. Schütz, Tacoma, and Henry F. Niehringhaus, St. Louis; Marcus C. Allen of Oriental Temple, Troy, N. Y.; Fast Commander of Washington Commandery No. 23 of Saratoga; George W. Fowle, Captain General of the Arab Patrol, Moslem Temple, Detroit; Noble Fred Michael of El Katif Temple, Spokane, and Noble Jack Leggett of Algeria Temple, Helena, Mont.

The one element of contest that is introduced into the elections of the Imperial Potentates is the "unwritten law" that either the Imperial Treas-the islanders, and the Nobles gathered on the lawn at the Hotel Metropole, where photographs were taken. Then they scattered to enjoy the pleasures of the island until luncheon was served.

At Hotel Metropole luncheon was served to 250 Shriners, and to each was given a souvenir menu card, the reverse of which bore a beautiful view in colors of Catalina Harbor and panorama of Avalon.

All the regular vehicles of traffic and many improvised ones were brought forth by the islanders to transport the sightseers to the points of interest along the stage route and to Pebble Beach, and the business also reaped a rich harvest.

The trip home was made without special incident. Both going and returning, the trip was a smooth one, so that the red ties men lost at least one possible experience, and nothing else well fortified by camel's milk and the determination to "hang out the rope," nearly every Noble with-outout mail de me.

WHIFF OF SEA, SOUP OF CLAMS.

HALF-MILE OF TABLE SPREAD ON REDONDO BEACH.

Chowder Flows Freely, the Fragrance of Flowers Tips the Ocean from Old Ocean, Pretty Women Bid Shriners Welcome and Five Thousand Mystic Visitors Rejoice.

More than five thousand Shriners went down to the sea yesterday. With them went other thousands, their wives and daughters and sweethearts. The gathering at Redondo began when the haze of the earlier morning was clearing away, and by the time the sky was bright blue overhead the beach and flower-lined walks were dotted with red ties.

No more typical California day ever did its part to make happy a throng of visitors than this day by the Pacific. A fresh breeze swept landward, driving before it racing swells, which rose as they neared the shore of the pretty cove; then leaped high, curling into white foam. Beyond their snowy line the channel showed, blue and green in the sunlight.

The air was clean and sweet—washed by the suspicion of rain of the evening before—until it stimulated like wine, making the blood of those who tasted leap. Flowers—these were everywhere, long banks of scarlet geraniums, beds of brilliant carnations, masses of roses and snowy callas—vied with the ocean and the sweet breezes in giving welcome to those who had come. And prettier than the flowers a hundred California women clad in white from top to toe, stood behind long tables serving the happy guests, and pinning on each Noble's lapel a boutonniere.

Electric cars left downtown stations bleated to platform edges from 9 o'clock in the morning. On each line a fifteen-minute service was maintained. The greatest crush was between the hours of 12 and 3. By the latter hour many who had gone to Casa Verdugo, and to Eastlake Park, and other hundreds, who had risen late or had been busy downtown, were ready to get their first taste of California clam chowder. They went for the most part in groups of three, four or a half dozen—people from the same town or parties who had become acquainted during their journey.

SUCH A MORNING! Such a morning as yesterday's brings happiness even to those who from years in the Southwest have become accustomed to its exhilaration. With the Nobles who had flocked from far-off places and home-niching on the blessings of this oasis, it brought excitement of joy and of surprise.

The cars whirled through the streets of the pretty southwest residence sections where handsome, flower-banked boulevards and spacious lawns gave way to open fields and then vineyards; on past low rounded hills, their pale green sides, creased with rows of eucalyptus trees or topped with majestic evergreens and palms; down over low salt meadows where fat, sleek cattle grazed contentedly and the freshness of the sea breeze first fell gratefully on the faces of the travelers; then out on the broad beach.

Here they bowed along for miles on the left the wind-swept sand dunes; on the right the dune-combed sea.

Even the hillocks of sand were patched with green and with yellow flowers. Find the spot in Southern California which is not bright and fragrant in the springtime! In the loneliest places of dunes, dotted with birds sang in the morning sunlight. Now and then came a group of cottages from whose front porches women and children waved welcoming hands.

WHIFF OF SALT AND SEAWEED. The beach, washed clean by the last high tide, gave forth the salt and seaweed odor which, when once it has come to the nostrils of a man, lures ever after. Far on the sky-line rose the faint hazy outline of land, and the sun lifted the haze from about it and the island whither hundreds of their brethren were already voyaging—Catalina—showed herself to the eyes of these others.

The cars sped through Del Rey, Manhattan, Hermosa and the other beach places until the curves of the shore and the blunt headland beyond, thrusting its white nose into the water, broke the passengers that they were nearing Redondo. They left the cars near the tides of the park and the town was alive with flags and with flowers. It had put on its holiday attire and was ready to do its part in greeting the strangers. Even the sooty yard locomotives were twice in colored bunting.

Members of the citizens' committee met the cars and told the visitors whether to go, answered inquiries and in all ways doing what they could to make the day more pleasant. But most of those who came needed no telling. On the one hand the appetizing odor of steaming clam chowder told of the typical beach feast which had been spread; and on the other side many things beckoned.

There was the beach itself with its mellow sunshine and warm sand where one might lie and lazily watch the barkentine in the stream and the four-masted lumber schooner unloading at the little wharf. There were the homes and the hotel, all of them radiant with many-colored flowers, gardens, and there were the grounds in front of the latter with their winding walks and beds of blossoms. To all these places the visitors went.

ROUND THE CHOWDER TABLE.

Sooner or later each found a seat at the long table where women were serving the chowder. The table stretched a quarter of a mile straight. In front of it—just enough to screen the salt sea breeze from it—was a zephyr—lines of low shrubbery interposed between it and the ocean. Behind rose the trees of the park and close by were masses of flowers. Every guest's plate was surrounded with blossoms. Tall callas in vases, clusters of carnations with pinks and roses glorified the board.

The chowder was served from glass stoves, where special connections had been made with the mains for this purpose. The stoves were ranged along the table front. White-clad cooks presided over them. White-clad women served the steaming bowls. And never was a feast more intensely enjoyed. The fresh breeze and the long ride had done their parts to make every one hungry, and these dishes of steaming soup which came from the great kitchen?

To those who had come from inland places the little sea trip taken in steamers and launches was especially inviting. All day these busy crafts were kept heavily laden. The journey by water was master to the southward in the evening well laden with bills which they had accumulated.

None of the things they found or saw awoke more comment than the great saloons which were used for cracker bowls at the long table where they had eaten. These with high backs and wide seats awoke exclamations on every hand. No morning passed to noon and afternoon began to wane until sunset had begun to paint the sky and to flash reflected colors on the sea before the motor returned to the city. When they did come back it was with the memory of a happy day spent on flowery shores of a peaceful ocean.

SPANISH FEAST DOES FASCINATE.

FIVE THOUSAND ENTERTAINED AT CASA VERDUGO.

Twelve Wagonloads of Flowers Distributed Among the Visitors and Also Thousands of Boxes of Long-Stemmed Strawberries—Glendale and Tropic Entertainers.

Five thousand visiting Shriners and their friends had a demonstration of high potentialities in peppery edible at Casa Verdugo yesterday.

They are still trying to calculate the heat units. The visitors were guests of the people of Glendale and Tropic. The old Spanish mansion, nestled at the foot of the emerald hills, was resplendent in its holiday attire, and the visitors were given a royal reception. There was action every minute, and the affair was so well planned that everybody was delighted with the outing. Daniel Campbell, chairman of the committee on arrangements, had a program in preparation that kept the visiting Nobles on the move from the minute they left the car until they returned to the city. Committees from the various fraternal bodies and clubs served under the direction of Frank Albright.

The day was ideal for the outing. Nature seemed to be working with the management to make the celebration a success. A thin mantle of clouds overhung the valley and obscured the noon-day sun, and the poppy fields about the venerable old homestead were blooming in all their glory. The foothills had on their prettiest coat of green, and a soft breeze played around the scene of merriment.

The decorations of the houses along the car line between Tropic and Casa Verdugo were beautiful. Bundles of all colors and cut flowers were hung about in unstinted measure. At Tropic Station, large signs bearing the town name, made of red geraniums on a palm leaf background, had been set up, and smaller signs of similar construction were in position at the street crossings.

The people began to arrive about 9 o'clock in the morning, and until 2 o'clock, every car from the city was filled with tea and badge bedecked Nobles and women. Special cars were put into service, and although standing room was at a premium, no one was disappointed by not being able to get in the trip. Fortunately, many of the morning visitors left early in the afternoon, so that at no time was the crowd too large for comfort.

The path from the car line to the old house was lined with beautiful booths made of greens and wild flowers, and pretty girls attired in immaculate white gowns, distributed cut flowers, and oranges and boxes of chocolate. The strawberries were great long-stemmed beauties luscious and inviting. The giving of them to the visitors was one of the most pleasing features.

A thing that the visitors will not forget was the lavish distribution of flowers. There were great wagonloads of bloom. Not mere buttonhole bouquets were given away, but great masses of posies. There was more than the visitors could carry and the ground became thickly carpeted with roses and carnations. Very few of the visitors had ever seen before.

The booths from which the good things were served were decorated and under the charge of Mrs. John Lesman of Tropic, and Mrs. Edgar W. Pack of Glendale, assisted by several scores of maid and matrons in gala attire. The refreshment tent was furnished by the ladies of the W.C.T.U. of Tropic, and the great refreshment tent made of hundreds of yards of fiesta bunting supplied through the courtesy of the Pasadena Tournament Committee. Los Angeles furnished hundreds of flags and pennants for the occasion.

Beginning at 11 o'clock, a typical Spanish luncheon was served in the garden. The menu was of the most delicious. Tamales, enchiladas, pan y mantequilla, acedunas, and fresas y naranjas appeared on the menu. As none of these names are included in the Arabic vocabulary, they were Greek to nearly all the visiting Nobles. There were only accommodations to serve 600 persons at one time, but eventually everybody had partaken of the property, and very few of the visitors had ever seen the dishes that were served.

"This is hot stuff, all right," gasped one of the Pittsburgh Nobles, grabbing a "chaser" of lemonade. "The pepper-mother used to make was water compared with this. The table was playing with the Nobles, and the Nobles were pleased with the strange fare after they had gained courage to taste it.

Features of the day were Spanish dances by Viola Yorba and Ernest Martinez, and selections by a Spanish orchestra. Thousands of souvenirs were distributed, and silver badges were pinned on SHRINE'S BEST. THIS MEETING.

Imperial Potentate Clayton Says Order Prosper and Speaks Good Word for Entertainers.

Imperial Potentate Alvah P. Clayton, although reaching Los Angeles only in time to join the pilgrimage to Santa Catalina yesterday morning, was the moving spirit in the day's doings.

"I've been here scarcely long enough to catch my breath—I haven't even seen the inside of my room yet," exclaimed the Imperial Potentate last evening. "I do know, however, that this will be one of the most successful meetings the Shriners have ever held. Los Angeles and Southern California have done themselves proud in the hospitality extended us."

"We have had a very prosperous year. Our order is in excellent condition, and is reaching out into new territory. It is a potent factor in Masonry, bringing into harmonious relations both of the great branches of Masonic interests, the York and the Scottish Rites."

"No important legislation is to be considered at this session, and there is no doubt that the usual custom, adopted ten years ago, will prevail, whereby there will be a general stepping up of the present officers to the next highest positions, thus leaving but one vacancy to fill."

"I believe this will be done harmoniously, and that only good will come to the order through the meeting in Los Angeles."

the guests as they alighted from the cars.

"We're far away from home, George," whispered a little woman from Cleveland to her "hubby," when she had made a careful survey of the strange features and many more probably harbored the same thought. The excursions through the orange groves were a source of great pleasure to the easterners.

"I'm almost sorry I came West," remarked a Noble from Detroit; "I'm afraid I can never settle down in Michigan again. This is indeed a remarkable country."

"Fine time; Glendale's all right," was a common remark among the Nobles on the way back to the city, and the ladies, likewise, appeared to have had a delightful day.

THOUSANDS IN ALGERIA JAM.

MONTANA SHRINERS ARE HOSTS AT BIG RECEPTION.

Tremendous Crush at the Alexandria Hotel When the Butte Temple Opens House to Its Friends. Wanted All Champagne in the House, but Had to Leave Some for Others.

Never before in the history of Los Angeles hotels has there been a crush that could come from the mob that endeavored to force its way to the banquet hall of the Alexandria Hotel last night when Algeria Temple of Butte, Mont., held a reception.

Fully five thousand people sought for admission. The affair was scheduled to start at 8:30 o'clock, but fully one hour before that time the lobby, the main stairs, and the mezzanine floor, were crowded almost to suffocation. It was necessary for Malcolm McDonald, president of the First National Bank of Tonopah, to stand for a half hour on the stairway of the hotel and shout himself hoarse in an effort to keep the long refreshment tables and threatened crowd from charging up the stairway to the reception hall.

At 9:30 o'clock the reception room was a mass of people. Ten minutes afterward the crowd had become so great that the people surged about the long refreshment tables and threatened their destruction. Order was with difficulty maintained.

Still the crowd grew. Standing room was at a premium and there seemed no way to get in or out. The Boston and Montana band was playing continually and the stairway leading up to the mezzanine floor was a seething mob of red faces and dress suits.

The reception room and the galleries leading to it were packed solid with people. At one time it seemed that the ladies were in danger of being crushed out of the hotel. The hotel forces opened lanes of exit time and again which acted as safety valves for the mob.

The Butte people certainly did themselves proud. A great hollow square was formed by the tables. They were loaded with good things to eat, and drink.

It was stated last night that the Butte delegation became peevish because the Alexandria Hotel management refused to sell them all of the champagne pump on the mezzanine. Each one of us is determined to tell every one we meet about the climate, the rich valleys, and our great advantages in a commercial way. We are all loyal to our home, and whenever we leave it, it is with a strong purpose to do missionary work along the way.

A committee was delegated yesterday to secure a plump, genteel burro, which is figure in the parade. A Shriners in evening dress is to bestride the little animal; and as a burro is sometimes known to prove impatient to blows or persuasion, great care is taken to secure a warranted beast that will march with serene countenance and refrain from doing ought to break up the line.

The hitch-hiking will always be out at the Arizona headquarters. A reception is to be given Wednesday night by the Daughters of Isis, and on Thursday night by the Temple, and all Nobles and friends are invited, with the hospitality that characterizes the sons of the plains.

El Zaribah Temple plans two receptions at the Hollenbeck during the week. The first one will be given by the Daughters of Isis Wednesday night from 8 to 10 o'clock in parlors Nos. 16 and 17. Thursday night the members of El Zaribah will hold a general reception from 8 to 10 o'clock. Elaborate preparations have been made for the receptions.

NEVADANS NOISY. FORTY BOOMERS LOOSE. The Southern Nevada delegation chartered six big touring cars last night and made a tour of the city, visiting the hotels and newspaper offices and singing the praises of Goldfield and Tonopah. There were forty of them in the party and they made the corridors of the hotels ring with their cheers.

With a blare of trumpets the party would dash up to a hotel, dismount from their machines, and with a flag at their head, march inside. Special songs had been prepared by members of the party, and at each stop the on-lookers were treated to some real Shriners sentiments mixed up with a considerable portion of Nevada patriotism, like this: "Tonopah, Tonopah! Ha, ha, ha! Goldfield, Goldfield! Zip, boom, ah!" Theodore Haffner of Phoenix is the owner of the dog, and during the journey "Bull" tried to throttle the gaggle-car men; and when occasionally released at some station for a little stroll, it required the efforts of the entire patrol to keep the savage animal from demolishing lunch counters, waiters and all.

More than 150 Arizonans are registered at the Hollenbeck, which gives evidence of being headquarters of the crowd by two paintings in classic outline. One shows a humble miner leading a burro along a desert trail, and the other is of a wild-eyed cowboy chasing a gentle steer down a "canyon." As the western steps are known in lurid literature.

Arizona is known as the home of Apache Indians, sage-brush, cactuses, rattlesnakes, Gila monsters, and other horrors, among some of the effects of Easterners, and the members of El Zaribah Temple are determined to do a little missionary work among the Nobles from New England and other sections, who are supposed to believe all the stories of the wild, woolly West are still true in Arizona.

N. A. Morford of Phoenix is Potentate, and George W. Vickers of the Phoenix Republican is recorder of the temple. "We wish to meet as many of the eastern nobles as possible," said one of the Arizona men. "We are bent upon combining a good time here with a little boosting of our territory, and each one of us is determined to tell every one we meet about the climate, the rich valleys, and our great advantages in a commercial way. We are all loyal to our home, and whenever we leave it, it is with a strong purpose to do missionary work along the way."

MERE MAN TO HAVE A SHOW.

Mother's Congress 'Accepts' White House Hint.

To Consider Place of Father in the Home Life.

Prominent Women of Nation Will Be Present.

The influence of the White House has been seen in the programme for the Congress of Mothers, which opens its tenth annual convention today morning at the Ebell Club.

Theodore Roosevelt, that great lady, who is honorary vice-president of the New York State Mother's Congress, has lately expressed her opinion concerning the place that the father in the home should be given in the discussions of such bodies, and President Taft, who is the president of the National Congress of Mothers, expressed himself along the same line with characteristic force, in a member of the New York State Committee.

"One of your topics," said he, "would it do to speak of the place of the father in the home? Now and then people forget that exactly as the mother must help the bread-winner, the father must help the mother in his turn, if he is worth his salt in every way back up the ladder in bringing up the children. All the prime duties are shared, and no amount of business will make the average good citizen unless that good citizen is a good husband and a good father. It is a good thing to be a good husband and a good father, and it is a good thing to be a good mother and a good mother.

The order has been issued by the National Congress of Mothers, which opens its tenth annual convention today morning at the Ebell Club. The order has been issued by the National Congress of Mothers, which opens its tenth annual convention today morning at the Ebell Club.

TELLS ABOUT OWENS RIVER.

Arguments Against Project Proved Absurd.

Interesting Facts Presented by Engineer Lippincott.

Scientists Enthusiastic Over Getting the Water.

J. D. Lippincott, consulting engineer of the Los Angeles aqueduct, delivered a lecture on the Owens River project last night in Symphony Hall, under the auspices of the Southern California Academy of Sciences. The speaker was well equipped with stereoscopic views, and plans and drawings, and reduced to an absurdity the apologies for arguments against the project which have been put forth from time to time. With reference to the purity of the Owens River water, Mr. Lippincott said:

"The United States Geological Survey has taken samples from the Owens River many times. These have been analyzed at Berkeley, and we have the reports. All analyses show that the water is superior in quality to the water in the Los Angeles River. In addition to the government tests, we have made numerous analyses of the water ourselves, and we have found it almost chemically pure. Tests made from samples secured when the water was low, show, as a maximum, five grains of mineral salts to the gallon."

After Mr. Lippincott's address, William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles aqueduct and Superintendent of the City Waterworks, answered questions regarding the great undertaking.

"Why get water from the Owens River when there are 20,000 miners' inches going to waste in the San Fernando Valley?" asked a man in the rear of the hall.

"Where did you get your information?" asked Mulholland.

"Evening News," came the answer, and a laugh burst from the audience.

Mr. Lippincott gave a vivid account of the Owens River country, and showed conclusively that the water supply is both permanent and adequate for the purpose intended.

"The head waters of the Owens River," he said, "drain 2,800 square miles. In the way of comparison permit me to say that the Santa Ana River drains 218 square miles, and the San Gabriel, 22 square miles. The average output from the drainage area which passes the point of the inlet is 50 per cent greater than will be taken for Los Angeles."

"The precipitation in the Owens River country is almost entirely in the form of snow. For this reason the drainage area gives more water in the summer when the snow melts than in the winter. This is a happy circumstance, as the consumption of water is much greater in this city during the summer months than during the winter."

"Regarding the contamination of the water," Mr. Lippincott continued, "let me say that almost the entire course of the canal through the desert is far from any human habitation. Any disease germs that might enter the water, I am told, would die within ten days. It will take the water several months to pass through the course. In addition, the plan is to cover the aqueduct as soon as possible after its completion. If it is thought advisable. Most of the drainage area is government forest reserves, so that large territory will be perpetually free from contamination."

"The 20,000 miners' inches we would get from the Owens River would be sufficient to supply a population of 1,000,000 and 75,000 acres of land."

Replying to the criticism that the board of engineers was assuming too much authority in carrying on its work, Mr. Lippincott said:

"It is true that some of our actions have conflicted with the city charter and several old ordinances, but the essential fact remains that we have an absolutely correct record of every transaction. We have installed the system of auditing used on the Panama Canal, which is the best in the world for this kind of work. Everything is purchased by competitive bidding, and our records are open to the public."

Mr. Lippincott and Mr. Mulholland answered many questions regarding the great undertaking, and the audience was enthusiastic over the prospect of securing the Owens River water for Los Angeles.

Before the lecture, the following officers of the Academy of Sciences were elected: President, B. R. Baumgardt; first vice-president, William H. Knight; second vice-president, John D. Hooker; secretary, Melville Dorier; treasurer, S. J. Keese; directors, Holdridge D. Collins, G. Major Taber and John Vosburg.

ERROR IN CHARTER.

Mistake of a Figure in Riverside County Document Cause of Discussion.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

RIVERSIDE, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The puzzling question has arisen as to whether the error of one figure will affect the validity of the new city charter which was passed by the late Legislature and was to have gone into effect the latter part of this month.

The discovery has been made that in appending his certification to the charter, the City Clerk dated it March 2, 1908, which was several months before the freholders began their work of framing the charter. The date intended was March 2, 1907.

Opinion is divided as to the probable effect of this error. The City Attorney, John D. Hooker, believes that the error would at least lay the ground for a contention, should anyone desire to contest the charter. The general hope is expressed that the matter will not prove serious.

The error was made by the stenographer who copied the document. In the rush to get the charter through before the Legislature adjourned, the discrepancy in the date went unnoticed in all of the official copies.

HELP FIRE PROTECTION.

Rialto Citizens Hold an Enthusiastic Meeting for That Purpose and Subscribe.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

RIALTO, May 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A large and enthusiastic meeting of citizens was held tonight in the hall to discuss plans for fire protection. Fire Chief Stephens, Water Superintendent Will Starkey and George M. Cooley of San Bernardino were present and offered much valuable information.

Messrs. K. W. P. Martin, Thomas Moffatt, A. B. Faddock and John

Showalter were elected fire commissioners to raise and disburse money for more adequate fire protection. Two thousand dollars was estimated as necessary, and $100 was immediately subscribed.

A resolution was introduced stating that the report that shortage in water supply was one of the causes of the fire destruction was erroneous.

Rev. J. H. Lash, John Knoblauch, A. Lackey, George Brun, C. E. Tibbitt, J. C. Boyd and Thomas Lackey were appointed to take steps to incorporate the town.

Excitement in San Jacinto Over the Arrest of Paralytic of That Area.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

SAN JACINTO, May 6.—Excitement runs high here today over the arrest of Nathan Sizelove, a paralytic, who propels himself, about the streets in a wheeled chair, for drawing a revolver on Dr. Curt, a physician.

The doctor stated that Sizelove became infuriated because he remonstrated with him over his drinking habits, while the cripple says that his action was prompted by his wife's story of the physician's unwarranted conduct toward her. Sizelove was placed under a $1000 bond to keep the peace.

SAN JACINTO JOYS.

A number of Indians came down from the Coahuilla reservation today to haul supplies for their reservation, where the U. S. government will shortly build a big reservoir for their benefit.

Miss Gertrude Wright returned to Occidental College today after a ten days' visit at home.

ROSE LEAVES CHAFED NIM.

The historian, Seneca, relates that a Roman sybarite, while resting on his silken couch, suddenly sat up, called loudly for his servant and peevishly complained that he could not sleep because a rose-leaf had doubled up under him and was pricking his skin.

Whether the story be truth or fiction, the fact is incontrovertible that the human skin is acutely sensitive. Indeed, physiologists tell us that our skin has millions of infinitesimal breath holes or pores through which we breathe as naturally as through our nose.

Stop up these breath holes and you, in effect, stop up the noses of the skin and strangle respiration. How important, then, it is to put on underwear which allows the skin to perform its work unhampered.

Closely knit underwear is not suited to any climate and particularly not to a hot climate. If the perspiration of the body has no easy outlet, it remains on the body and in the underwear, keeping both damp and clammy. Lo! and behold, then the insidious cold stinks along and gets in its deadly work.

What is the remedy, gentle reader? The remedy is rational underwear which expels the damp air and invites the fresh air and keeps the body always at an even temperature and therefore, fresh, fragrant and wholesome.

Such ideal underwear has at last been invented and its low cost, fifty cents a garment, puts it within the reach of every man. It is called "POROSKIN," which means a porous, air-open, stretchy fabric full of tiny holes to ventilate the skin. Just try this underwear once and you'll never return to closely knit, smothering fabrics that retain odor, dampness and chill.

And in the Appeal to Arms, by James Kendall Hosmer, is the following, quoted from a description by Whitelaw Reid:

"He sat his horse, quiet, thoughtful, almost stolid. Said one to him: 'Dare not the prospect begin to look gloomy?' 'Not at all,' was the quiet reply. 'They can't force our lines around these batteries tonight. It is too late. Delay counts everything with us. Tomorrow we shall attack them with fresh troops and drive them, of course!'"
